"HUBER is still in a very positive situation with regard to the order situation and we are ahead of schedule with incoming orders," said Dr Oliver Rong and Rainer Köhler during the exchange of experiences with State Minister Füracker. "Of course, the current global situation is a challenge also for HUBER: increased costs for energy, material and transport logistics as well as the availability of staff and parts for production. We assure you that we are doing everything we can to master these challenges. Our position in the market and the order situation are very positive, we are still on a growth course and are hiring employees in all divisions: we are well prepared for the future."

In addition, the two board members informed Minister of State Füracker about the progress of the new construction of production hall P3, which is expected to go into operation in spring 2023. He was visibly impressed by the size of the construction project with an enclosed area of approx. 7,000 m<sup>2</sup>.
